Scales

This is a rhythmic progression of notes either by ascending or descending forming a unique sequence.

Among the 12 keys, we shall take one that is commonly used; Key D.

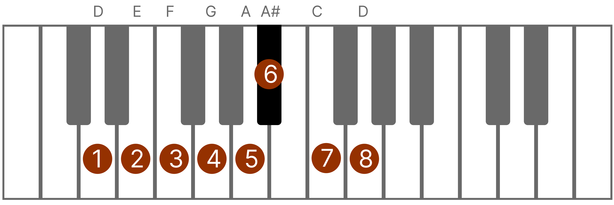
For practice of these scales use metronome and adjust the tempo accordingly.

D Major Scale

As stated earlier every key has its own sol-fa notations, using the Key formula starting from D,W,W,H,W,W,W,H you will get that the key of D is comprised of; D,E,F#,G,A,B,C#,D.

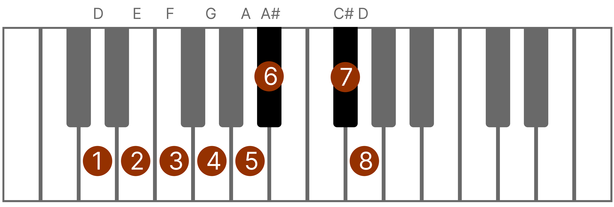
D Minor Scale

In the D minor scale, the 3rd note, 6th note and 7th note are lowered down by a Semi-tone.



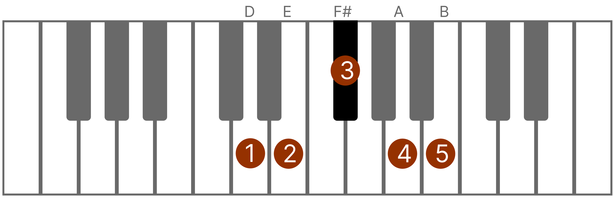
D Harmonic Minor Scale

In the D harmonic minor scale, only the 3rd note and 6th note are lowered down by a Semi-tone.



D Pentatonic Scale

The Pentatonic scale consists of the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 5th and 6th notes.



D Blues Scale

This is one of the most important musical scales, in the coming module you will learn how to use them, where to use them and how to convert them to chords, for now just practice as scale, use all octives to practice.
